

I learned that the Federal Communications Commission is considering a proposal that could diminish the protections we now receive from the Indiana's Telephone Privacy law. The FCC is considering preempting states' telephone privacy laws in favor of a lower national standard, claiming that preemption is complicated. Please leave the existing Indiana law alone. We do not want more unwanted telemarketing calls. Thank you.